NEAR EAST STILL IN STATE OF TENSION.

Kemal Manoeuvring to Gain Time?

ALLIES MAY RETIRE TO GALLIOLI.

(Routledge Service.)

London, September 28. It is authoritatively learned that the tension in the Near East has been in no way lessened by a telegram from General Harington containing Kemal's reply to the Allies' request that he withdraw his troops from the neutral zone, which was the subject of a Cabinet meeting in London to-day.

It is suggested that Kemal is endeavouring to gain time, and the position at Constantinople is causing apprehensions. Turkish divisions are massing at Ismid and threatening the city. A rising at Constantinople is not regarded as impossible. The city is not regarded as suitable for defence, so the Allies will probably retire upon Gallipoli, if attacked, and defend the Straits.

No Change in French Policy.

Rambouillet, September 28.

After hearing M. Poincaré explain the situation, the Cabinet decided that events in Greece in no way modify the decisions embodied in the Allies' Note to Kemal on the subject of the proposed conference.

Friendly Demonstrations Before British Legation at Athens.

London, September 28.

It is learned authoritatively that there was quiet yesterday. The city is controlled by a committee of three generals. The Greek warship with revolutionaries from the islands arrived, but there were no disorders. Friendly demonstrations before the British Legation occurred. The revolution at Salonica was also quietly managed.

Athens, September 28.

The Provisional Revolutionary Committee has issued a proclamation threatening disturbers of the peace with exemplary punishment.

Constantinople, September 28.

Before the compulsory departure of the Greek cruiser Averoff from Constantinople, her officers and crew joined the revolt.

Kemalists as Prohibitionists.

The Kemal administration in the reconquered territory has confiscated all alcoholic beverages and closed all bars. Turkish papers anticipate similar steps shortly at Constantinople.

Prince Paul not a Prisoner.

Athens, September 28.

The report that Prince Paul is a prisoner is without foundation. Greek Crown Prince Accepts Throne.

London, September 28.

It is learned upon trustworthy authority that the Greek Crown Prince has accepted the Throne.

Why Constantine Abdicated.

London, September 28.

The Associated Press correspondent at Athens interviewed King Constantine on Tuesday evening in the garden of the Summer Palace at Istol. King Constantine was surrounded by his family, including the Crown Prince, to whom officers were bringing despatches indicating revolts throughout the country. The King declared that he would not abdicate unless this was demanded by the people.

On Wednesday the King accepted the resignation of the Cabinet after the receipt of two ultimatums from the troops aboard the cruiser Lemnos, which arrived from Laurium after stirring up the Navy to revolt. A mission sent to Laurium to placate the revolutionaries failed. Meanwhile there were demonstrations at Athens, culminating in a mob surrounding the Palace and threatening to seize the King, who thereupon abdicated.

Afghanistan Watching.

Simla, September 28.

Major Humphries, Minister at Kabul, will arrive here to-day to confer with the Government. On both sides of the Afghanistan border Moslems are showing much interest in the Turkish question, which necessitates watchfulness and caution on the frontier.

The internal position in India is quiet. There are excellent crop reports, and the removal of the wheat embargo is foreshadowed.

Ex-King a Prisoner: Cabinet Minister Killed.

Paris, September 28.

According to a message from Geneva, the Greek delegation to the League of Nations has been advised that the revolutionaries have made ex-King Constantine a prisoner, and that a Cabinet Minister has been killed.

Kemal and the Allies.

London, September 28.

It is learned in London that Kemal has gone to Ankara to submit the Allied Note to the National Assembly. Therefore it is unlikely that a reply will be received before next week.

Sultan Abdicates?

Constantinople, September 28.

It is reported that the Sultan has abdicated in favour of Prince Abdul Medjid, heir to the Throne.

Revolutionary Troops Cheered in Greek Capital.

Athens, September 28.

The revolutionary Colonels Plastiras and Gonatas entered the capital at the head of the troops and were enthusiastically received.

Kemal Proposes British Withdrawal.

Constantinople, September 28.

In a message to M. Pelle, (the French High Commissioner) Kemal suggested a British withdrawal. General Harington replied suggesting a conference between the local British and Turkish commanders with a view to the establishment of a provisional neutral zone without prejudice to the line to be subsequently established.

Greek Bank Ships Gold to U.S.

New York, September 28.

The steamer Themistocles brought $25,000,000 gold from the Greek National Bank to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. The purpose of the shipment is at present unexplained.

RUSSIAN FURS FOR AMERICA.

Riga, September 28.

A message from Moscow says the North Western Trade Committee has despatched to America a large consignment of furs. This is stated to be the first large consignment of raw materials sent to America under Soviet auspices.

PAYMENT OF MEXICO'S FOREIGN DEBT.

Mexico City, September 28.

The Senate has unanimously ratified the agreement with the International Bankers' Committee with regard to the payment of Mexico's foreign debt. The measure now goes to the President.

SENSATIONAL BANK ROBBERY.

INTERNATIONAL BANK'S LOSS.

Two Lakhs Missing.

MANAGER RETICENT AS TO DETAILS.

A sensation was caused in local banking and financial circles this morning in consequence of a report that the International Banking Corporation had been robbed of a sum of no less than $500,000. Enquiries made later by a Telegraph reporter confirmed the rumour, but no details of the robbery could be secured.

When seen by our representative this morning, Mr. F. McD. Courtney, the acting Manager of the Bank, which is an American concern, stated that it was quite true that the Bank had been robbed of $500,000. "All that I can tell you," he stated, "is that last night our cashier reported a two lakh shortage in his notes and cash. The police are investigating the matter, and at present, until full investigations have been carried out, I cannot say any more on the matter."

Asked if it was a case of a safe having been broken into, or whether there was any clue as to the manner of the theft, the Manager said: "All these possibilities are being investigated fully by the police." That was all he could say.

This is the second big Bank robbery in Hongkong within recent months, the other taking place at the Yokohama Specie Bank in June last, when a sum of $400,000 in notes was mysteriously extracted from a safe, where it was known to have been securely deposited on the night prior to the disappearance of the sum.

FRENCH SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

EUROPEAN'S LOSS.

A Queen's Road Incident.

Before Mr. E. W. Hamilton, at the Police Court this morning, Mr. A. J. V. Hansen charged a Chinese with stealing a pocket book containing four 10s. notes, one first-class passage ticket and a birth certificate.

Mr. Hansen said that at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, whilst walking along Queen's Road Central near Ice House Street, a Chinese came up from behind and stood in front of him. Not then understanding the man's purpose, he stepped aside to give way, but the Chinese again lurched into him. At the same time he felt a pocket-book being extracted from his pocket and saw a second Chinese run across the road. Thinking that they were acting in concert, the European arrested both men and turned them over to a constable. The pocket book was not recovered.

The case was adjourned until to-morrow morning to enable the defendants to bring witnesses.

GENERAL CHAN'S MANIFESTO.

His Break With Sun Yat-sen.

On his resumption of office as Commander-in-Chief of the Cantonese troops, General Chan King-ming has issued a lengthy manifesto. It leads off with detailed references to his past six years' activities and goes on to refer to Dr. Sun Yat-sen's expedition against the North, concerning which General Chan says that, inasmuch as internal affairs had not been settled, he held the opinion that the venture would end in failure. Further, as the necessary financial support and military forces could not be obtained at short notice, he advised Dr. Sun to postpone the undertaking until adequate preparations were made.

Thereupon the suspicion of the Government against me was aroused. They suspected me of trying to interrupt this expedition. Upon the misguided advice of the crooked ones, a meeting was held in Kwelin which decided to occupy Canton first. As a matter of fact, when he (Dr. Sun) pretended to change his route of setting out for his expedition, I still had no suspicions against him. But as soon as I knew that he really wanted to overthrow me, I could not bear the thought of fighting with him, so, to avoid damage and destruction to our province, I tendered my resignation and returned to my country home.

After stating that Dr. Sun wished to attack him at Wai-chow, but could not do so because he had not sufficient power, General Chan speaks of Sun's naval attack on the Canton troops, his recruiting of bandits and issuing of enormous amounts of paper money, adding that since the trou is Dr. Sun has placed all the blame on him (General Chan).

Regarding his resumption of office, General Chan states that he first of all declined to accept the post, but since all had insisted upon his doing so, he had deemed it necessary to carry out the separation of military and civil affairs. He adds: "Since my resumption of duty I have taken upon myself the full responsibility for the public safety of Kwangtung Province. I will reform my troops and discipline them. I have no intention of doing any wrongs to Kwangtung. I will do my duty by having him suppressed. Excepting this, I will not resort to arms without a good purpose of saving the people from further sufferings. In fact, I have decided to carry out my duties in a frank and open manner in order to satisfy the people."

"As regards the affairs of the country, these should be settled by the Parliament. I sincerely hope that we military men will not interfere with same. As soon as the Constitution is made and the renunciation of the North and South is carried out, I will hand over my military power to the Central Government and retire to become a private citizen again."

CANTON NEWS.

Dr. Sun's Seal Sold.

Our Canton correspondent states that Dr. Sun Yat-sen's Presidential seal, which was left behind during the recent coup, has been purchased by a merchant for two thousand dollars. It is made of green jade and gold and is said to have cost four thousand dollars.

In compliance with a request made by the British Consul, the Foreign Commissioner has ordered the magistrate of the Pun Yu district to arrest the persons who recently fired at an Indian watchman at Messrs. Butterfield and Swire's godown.

The Canton Municipal Council has decided to construct twenty piers along the new Sincawei Bund. Negotiations have been carried out with the Commission of Customs in this matter.

MOTOR BOAT SINKS.

European Party's Plight.

A party of nine Europeans, mostly officers from the Empress of Russia, underwent an exciting experience yesterday afternoon, when the motor boat which they hired for a picnic to Shek-o Bay overturned in the rough seas and sank. Fortunately no casualties occurred, as the party were in the water at the time and the coxswain could swim, but the clothing and other things they brought on the trip were lost with the motor boat, and the excursionists had to return to town in their bathing suits.

Where the boat sank was not far distant from the shore, and the excursionists were able to make for the land without mishap. In their bathing suits, it was a weary tramp back to town but at length Shaukiwan was reached and some of the military stationed at this place loaned them such wearing apparel as to enable the men to come to town properly clad.

The George Bing No. 1 was the motor boat engaged. There does not appear to be any likelihood of its being saved.

HONGKONG A. D. C.

"I'll Leave It To You."

"I'll Leave It To You," the light comedy which the A. D. C. has in active rehearsal for production on the 13th 14th and 15th October is by Noel Coward, a promising playwright of the younger school. The play was first produced at the New Theatre, London, in July, 1920, under the management of Mary Moore, and, owing to the great popularity it achieved then, Robert Courtneidge is giving it a revival this winter. The same Manager has accepted another comedy by Noel Coward entitled "The Young Idea" which will be produced shortly. "I'll Leave It To You" is a play of youth and charm, the cast comprising no less than six ladies, all having more or less evenly distributed parts. The leading woman's part is what can best be described as a "Mary Moore part" and it was probably written for her, although it was created by Kate Cutler, in the A. D. C.'s production it is in the safe hands of one of their most talented members, and, after an absence of some years local playgoers will have the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with a long-standing favourite. Booking opens at Moutrie's on the morning of October 3rd.

BURGLARS AGAIN.

Three Houses in One Terrace Entered.

From Stanley Terrace at Quarry Bay, which is occupied by Taikoo Dock employees, comes a story of three burglaries being carried out on the same night in adjoining houses, without their occurrence being detected by the tenants until a considerable time had elapsed after the departure of the thieves.

The tenants of three adjoining houses, Nos. 6, 7 and 8, woke up this morning to discover that a burglar, or burglars, had been in their midst, and tangible evidence of their activities was provided in the disappearance of various articles, clothing and sums of money. It has not yet been possible to estimate the exact loss, but in one case the amount is placed at $115.

How the burglars may have gained access to the property will be seen when it is explained that a common verandah exists in the rear of the terrace, which might have given the robbers facilities in getting from one house to the other.

It is of incidental interest to recall that two burglaries had previously been committed in one of the houses in this terrace, the victims being a Mr. and Mrs. [Name redacted].

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

THE NEAR EAST.

Athena, Sept. 27.
The Salonika garrison has joined the revolution, which is supported by both Venizelist and Royalist officers. Prince Paul is reported to be a prisoner aboard the training ship Elli.
So far there has been no bloodshed. Athens is calm.Athena, Sept. 28.
King Constantine, in a message to the nation announcing his abdication, says he is anxious to prevent the slightest suspicion that his remaining on the throne will prevent the sacred unity of the Greeks and assistance from their friends in the critical situation to which its regrettable misfortunes have led the country.
He is confident that the nation will rally round his successor, Prince George.The King says that Greece will again overcome her difficulties, provided she faces the danger unitedly, and is assisted by powerful friends. He concludes that he is happy for another opportunity to sacrifice himself for Greece, and offers to fight at the head of the army if the Government and people desire.Paris, Sept. 28.
A semi-official message states that the Greek revolution will not change Allied policy as regards Turkey, but it warns the latter not to prejudice her position by military measures on the European shore of the Straits, thereby possibly committing a tactical error which would strongly affect the present negotiations.London, Sept. 28.
In view of the gravity of the Near East situation, the Cabinet last evening discussed for two hours possible alternatives arising out of Kemal Pasha's answer, then unrevoked. Subsequently it was stated that delay did not tend to improve matters. The Government was anxious to get Kemal to extend the time limit to 30th Sept. for the removal of 200,000 Greeks and Armenians from Smyrna, who were in sad plight. Britain had chartered fifteen ships for the purpose and the American Near East Relief Committee was similarly making important anticipations.Constantinople, Sept. 28.
The Turkish Cavalry from Erekey have been reinforced and are advancing north-eastwards upon Asmalitepe, apparently in order to cut off the British advanced post at Kepez. A British column with artillery has left for Chanak as a counter threat.General Harrington, in a conciliatory reply to Kemal Pasha, thanks him for his declaration to respect the neutrality of the Straits and his desire to avoid incidents, and points out that the destruction and building of roads was carried out as a military necessity. He assures Kemal Pasha that no shot will be fired except by his General Harrington's orders, and expresses readiness to meet Kemal Pasha anywhere that is convenient to discuss an understanding.The British forces already in the Near East include over 30,000 troops, six dreadnoughts, seven battle-cruisers, twenty destroyers, and several submarines and air-carriers.Washington, Sept. 27.
In response to Admiral Bristol's request, twelve destroyers have been ordered from Norfolk to Constantinople with relief provisions, and for the protection of American interests.London, Sept. 28.
A feeling of deepening anxiety prevails at the delicate position in the Asiatic neutral zone, notwithstanding the indications from authoritative Nationalist quarters in Rome and elsewhere of Kemal Pasha's intention to accept the Allied invitation to a peace conference. He desires it to be held in Italy if Asia Minor is considered impracticable.Meanwhile grave fears are entertained of untoward happenings in the neighbourhood of Chanak. The Turks are clearly encroaching on this zone in increasing strength and taking up positions with set purpose upon a concerted plan. Another disturbance feature is the widespread arming of the civilian population in Constantinople and large concentration on Ismid, leading to the suspicion that the Kemal invasion of the Chanak zone is only a feint calculated to draw off troops from the Turkish capital.The attention devoted to the Turkish position has led to the Greek revolution taking quite a secondary place in public interest.
The reverse of surprise and regret was expressed in London and Paris at Tino's overthrow, but it is recognised that it adds to the complications of the situation, inasmuch as it is felt that the certain degree of disorganisation involved thereby is likely to encourage the more aggressive Kemalists to strive to attain their goal in Thrace. This desire is reflected in the Kemal Pasha note to General Harrington, indicating the wish "to pass by the British troops" in the neutral zone "without attacking them."Notwithstanding the challenging tone of the note to Britain it is understood that Britain does not oppose an arrangement whereby the Soviet may be heard at the projected peace conference. It will probably be necessary to devise means whereby French disfavour will be overcome.

ASIA'S PLACE IN THE LEAGUE.

Geneva, Sept. 27.
At a meeting of the First Commission on Juridical and Constitutional questions, Mr. Arfa-ad-Dowleh (Persia) urged that Asia should be accorded equitable representation in the Council by two seats, one permanent and the other non-permanent.The proposal was supported by the delegates from China and India. The latter declared that the impression should not be given to the world that the League was an organisation of European or Christian nations.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnised at the Peak Church yesterday afternoon, when Miss Elsie Gittins, daughter of the late Mr. John Gittins of Feccho and of Mrs. Gittins of Ebury Street, London, was married to Mr. Granville Murray, younger son of the late Mr. Malcolm Murray and Mrs.
Murray of Nairn, Scotland. The officiating clergyman was the Rev.
V. H. Copley Moyle.The bride, who was charmingly attired in white crepe satin and carried a beautiful shower bouquet, was given away by Mr. Marshall Wood and was attended by two pretty attired bridesmaids, Miss Sheila Lang and Miss Yvonne Shenton, in pale yellow organdie, carrying bouquets of yellow flowers.
Mr. Mansfield was the bridegroom's best man.

MOTOR MISHAP.

Garage Proprietor
Committed For Trial.The evidence was concluded at the Magistrate's yesterday afternoon of a case in which Harry Koog, proprietor of the Moon Motor Garage, was charged with manslaughter, on the 20th August.The charge was laid in consequence of a collision between motor car 238, of which defendant was the driver, and a coolie at Whitfield. It was raining heavily that morning.
Car 238 was following another car and two motor cycles, and it was alleged that it suddenly swerved to the left side of the road, knocking down the deceased, a coolie, near the side channel and throwing him several yards. The car then crashed into a telegraph pole, bouncing it, and then swerved right across the road before it was pulled up. The deceased died about half an hour after he was knocked down.The prosecution having closed their case, Mr. d'Almada, for the defence, submitted that no prima facie case had been established.
Before dealing with the evidence his Worship should be reminded that there were a few essential points which must be considered in connection with the case. The first one was: What was the state of the weather at the time of this unfortunate happening? (2) In consequence of the weather what was the state of the road; and (3) What was the traffic on the road at the time?

Greasy Roads.

It had been given out in evidence that it was raining hard, said Mr. d'Almada. That was the evidence given by a witness for the prosecution. Sergeant Portation, who said that this particular spot was very slippery as a result of the rain. Mr. d'Almada said that there was clear evidence that a car going along with that kind of weather and the condition of the road was liable to skid if brakes were immediately applied.
The traffic on that morning represented two motor cycles and two motor cars, one of which was driven by the accused. There was one solitary pedestrian, the unfortunate victim in this case, who, according to a printer, was walking from east to west. Other witnesses said that he was crossing the road.The Magistrate (Mr. E. E.
Lindell) said that there was no evidence to that effect.Mr. d'Almada: It is barely four in the afternoon.The Magistrate: It was what the defendant had stated to him.Continuing, Mr. d'Almada submitted that assuming that the defendant was going at an excessive speed he was not doing such an unlawful act as to bring him within the scope of what was known in law as culpable negligence. Mr. d'Almada then referred to the evidence of two European witnesses, of Whitfield Terrace, who alleged that the defendant was going at what they considered to be an excessive speed. Then the police had the evidence of a printer, the only witness upon whom the Crown could rely on this charge. Mr. d'Almada submitted strongly that the printer was very unreliable.Mr. d'Almada wound up his address by saying that unless the prosecution had proved satisfactorily that defendant was guilty of culpable negligence in doing what he did, travelling at an excessive speed in a control area, his Worship would be justified in saying that if any offence had been committed it was a breach of the traffic regulations.His Worship said that it was clear the defendant was going over the speed limit. In any case there was a case to answer and he intended to commit defendant.The defendant was committed to the Sessions for trial, Mr.
d'Almada reserving his defence.
Defendant was granted $1,000 bail, $500 in cash and the balance in security.

CHILD LABOUR.

Yesterday's Council
Discussion.

In the Legislative Council yesterday, the Attorney General moved the second reading of the Bill intituled An Ordinance to regulate the employment of children in certain industries.

The Colonial Secretary seconded.

The Hon. Mr. Chow Shou-sen said: Sir—While my Chinese colleagues and I are in sympathy with the Bill in its principle, we wish to bring to the notice of the Government a point arising out of this proposed legislation. The Bill, if passed as it now stands would not only deprive some poor families of a part of their earning power, but would also make it more difficult for such poor parents as are earning their living away from home, to look after their children. Apart from this, there is also the possibility of the number of juvenile criminals being swelled, if such children were allowed to run wild in the street. I therefore hold the view that it is the duty of the Government to do something for this class of children, not only for their individual good, but also for the welfare of the community. As there are neither reformatories nor industrial schools in the Colony to which children of this class may be sent to learn a useful trade or handicraft, the only alternative that I can think of, is for the Government to establish or assist in establishing, free schools for their education. I do not anticipate any difficulty in establishing this kind of school nor that the expense would be heavy. I do not suggest compulsory education, which has been considered to be impracticable here; but what I have in mind is the establishment of free schools under the direct charge of, say, the Confucian

Society and the Tung Wah Hospital Committee (they are already doing fairly good work in this line), or any other educational body with the financial assistance scheme can easily be thought out.

My colleague and I strongly recommend this matter to the serious consideration of the Government, and hope that before long the Government will make pre-souncement that the proposal will be adopted.

The Hon. Mr. Pann: Sir, I rise to support the views expressed by the hon. senior member of the Chinese. I think my Unofficial colleagues will agree with me that the Government should make some arrangements on the lines suggested.

Schools Impracticable.

Hon. Mr. Bird: I believe the community at large will welcome this Bill, because it is high time that there was some legislation to regulate the employment of children in this Colony. The community is responsible for the labour conditions that prevail here and, in particular, for the protection of women and children from any suspicion of sweating;

and there can be no doubt that factory laws are a necessity in Hongkong. This Bill is a move in the right direction, but I think that some provision should be made for women inspectors in factories, as well as men. As regards the children under 12, under which age they are not allowed to carry loads, and those under 10, which is the age limit for employment in factories; I must admit that I do not know what is to be done with these children when their parents are at work. My Chinese colleague has suggested that schools should be provided where useful trades should be taught. That is an excellent suggestion, but is it practicable? It seems to me that these schools would have to be dotted all over the Colony. Otherwise, I am afraid, the children would never reach them, because they have not the wherewithal to pay for transport. As regards the reformatory, there is one in the Colony already, but, I understand, it is not in use as a reformatory because there is no one to put into it. With these remarks, Sir, I beg to support the Bill.

The Attorney General: I might mention that I have been informed that there is one small industrial school at present, which, I think, is conducted by the Church Missionary Society at Causeway Bay.

The Officer Administering the Government: No, at Kowloon City.

The Lesser of Two Evils.

H. E. The Officer Administering

the Government: I am glad to hear the remarks of the senior Chinese member on the principles of the Bill, as well as the remarks made by the senior, Unofficial member and by the honourable member on my right. Of course, it was realised by the Commission which sat on this question, and out of whose labours this Bill has been drafted, that some hardship would be caused if the employment of children under certain ages and in certain trades was forbidden by law; but anyone who examines the proceedings of the Commission will see all through that it is recognised that that was the lesser of two evils; that unless legislation of this kind was introduced those evils would continue merely from economic pressure and from what we may call ancient custom.

It has also come out from time to time, not only in connection with the evidence given before the Commission but also from reports made by persons interested, that children do accompany their parents—mothers principally—to places of employment, and though they occasionally do a little work, they are really taken there in order that they may not be left at home without anyone to look after them. I think employers recognise the fact that that must be the case, or else it would induce great hardship and lead to the children being neglected in such a way as to be a public scandal. The question of making other arrangements for the children has been considered by the Government from time to time, and three years ago, I think, quite that—the Government gave an assurance that they would give every consideration to the extension of educational facilities, either under Government auspices or under the auspices of various societies, such as the senior

Chinese member mentioned, and either fix a small fee or make the schools free. Effect was given, partly, to that principle when the Confucian Society established,

I think, 18 schools about three years ago, and the Government gave a contribution towards their maintenance. There are two difficulties, of course: one is forming suitable centres and finding suitable premises, and two, finding sufficient funds. I can assure honourable members that the Government, when this legislation has been passed, will not neglect this question and will do everything in its power to extend educational facilities to the many thousands of children who are at present without them.

Better Housing Conditions.

The late Mr. Lau Chu-pak, on more than one occasion, brought to the notice of the Government the scenes which occurred when new schools were opened; how the children came up in numbers far in excess of the accommodation, and it was a painful sight to see them turned away. The Government is not unmindful of the necessity of providing, as far as possible, for these children, and

I am sure that the Tung Wah

Hospital Committee, the Kwong

Wah Hospital Committee, the Confucian Society and other societies, will do all in their power to help.

We have had under consideration for some time the question of establishing a large industrial home, and I think that question will come up again very shortly.

There are several industrial schools in the Colony: there is one at the west end of the city and one being conducted on the same lines as the school formerly conducted by Miss Ayres at Causeway Bay and now conducted at Kowloon City. No doubt the experience gained will be of assistance when we come to deal with something larger. I am perfectly sure that this Bill, if properly worked, will effect a very wonderful improvement in the industrial conditions in Hongkong. To all of us who have been for any time in this Colony it has always been a painful sight to see children carrying loads, and to see very young children engaged for long hours in unsuitable industries. We have always known that there has been the difficulty of the poverty of the parents, but I am hoping that the general improvement in industrial conditions in Hongkong will serve to mitigate any hardship caused by enacting this legislation by the elders of the family getting better wages.

I may say, in this connection, that the Government is going to take up the subject of providing better homes for the working classes with avidity, and the arrangement provides for houses both for families and single labourers at lower rents and better conditions than at present.

That, incidentally, will help the question of the expense of keeping a family in the Colony. I need not say any more on the subject, except to give an assurance to honourable members that if there are any difficulties that arise out of the passing of this legislation they will be dealt with by the Government in as sympathetic and energetic a manner as possible.

In Force on 1st January.

The second reading of the Bill was then carried.

On the motion of the Attorney-

General, the Council went into Committee to consider the Bill clause by clause.

The sub-clauses of Clause 3 were re-numbered. On Clause 8, the Attorney-General moved that the date 1st day of January, 1923, be inserted.

The Officer Administering the Government explained that the

THE "SPIRITUAL SOLDIERS"

A Revival of "Boxerism"?

A Hankow telegram received the other day reported that the district of Hsuanen had been attacked and taken by 10 spiritual soldiers and the Magistrate had fled. Another telegram stated that Hsiong Ko-wu, in league with Yunao, Kweichow, Hunan and Kwangtung, is advocating the adoption of the federal system of provincial autonomy and supplying the spiritual troops now infesting Western Hupah with rifles and weapons of war, comments the Shanghai preparatory to making an intensive attack upon Hupah. Such reports, though alarming, are really very ridiculous. Since they are called the spiritual troops, why should they need rifles and weapons? Since 10 spiritual troops could take a district and a city by assault, they should certainly be irresistible. Why must they still need the assistance of other provinces? Since Hsiong Ko-wu has the service of the spiritual troops at his disposal, what need has he to advocate the doctrine of federal government?

However, if such a great and intelligent man as Hsiong Ko-wu, who is one of the important leaders in Szechuan, is encouraging the propagation of Boxerism, it should not surprise us that the ignorant masses are so superstitious as to establish secret societies for the devout purpose of practicing "spiritual boxing." Their activities are rapidly contaminating other provinces. It is much feared that a second Boxer rising may not be far off.

The Telegraph.

HONGKONG, 29th Sept., 1922.

IMPROVING THE WORKERS' LOT.

We believe, with the Hon. Mr. H. W. Bird, that the community as a whole will welcome the new Ordinance which regulates the employment of young children, and which was placed on the Colony's Statute Book yesterday afternoon. The public have already been made cognizant of the main provisions of the measure and have doubtless wondered, as we have, what is to be the fate of the many children which the Ordinance will throw upon the streets. The Hon. Mr. Chow Shou-son raised that point yesterday and pleaded for the establishment of a greater number of free schools. He wisely admitted that compulsory education was impracticable in a Colony such as this, but sought Government aid in removing the disabilities which the children of poor Chinese parents suffer. There will be few who will not echo his thoughts and hopes, and the assurances later given by His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government that the Government was sympathetically inclined towards such action will be received with relief.

But we think that the most valuable information which the discussion disclosed was that the Government is giving its attention to the better and cheaper housing of the working classes—both for families and for single labourers. His Excellency fore-shadowed lower rentals and better conditions. Just what the precise proposals of the Government are in this respect were not divulged, but there can be no question that it is on account of the high rentals which the poorest of the poor have to pay for a roof that so many of the workers have to send out wives and children to work to help earn the necessary income. To prevent children from working under conditions of hardship is a good thing, but there must be something beyond that if we in Hong Kong are going to discharge our full responsibilities to the thousands we govern. We must see that housing is plentiful and of good standard. We must considerably extend the facilities for free education to the children of our workers, and we must not place selfish obstacles in the way of a general improvement of economic standards. Factory laws and factory inspectors must come in due time, and with them must also come many of the safeguards which workers of Western countries possess.

It is to be hoped that the newly-passed Ordinance is but the first of a series of steps on the part of the Government to better the conditions of Hongkong Chinese workers. With the promised assistance, it is now the task of such bodies as the Tung Wah Hospital Committee and the Confucian Society to draw up schemes for the provision of more free schools; it is the duty of the Government to proceed with whatever plans it may have for the better housing of the people; and it is the duty of all of us to assist in raising the economic standard of the Chinese people. We should be looking to the day when Hongkong can no longer have the finger of obliquity pointed at it for being the home of conditions which contrast unfavourably with those prevailing at home.

A Voluntary Scheme.

The Registration Bill and the outcry concerning conscription (whether due to misapprehension or not) belong to the past, so it is not worth while reopening the question whether compulsory registration is justifiable. It has been decided to rely upon voluntary effort, and the Government is now engaged upon the creation of a permanent Emergency Services Organisation. We think it may be taken for granted that this measure will meet with general endorsement. There is no element of compulsion for the most perverted champion of liberty to gird at. On the other hand, the organisation of voluntary effort upon a systematic basis, instead of relying upon improvisation, is a measure of prudence. At the moment there is no particular unrest in the Colony, nor is there any specific reason to anticipate any in the near future. Disturbances are apt to occur suddenly, however (to say nothing of an epidemic of individual crimes of violence), and in any case preparation is specially advisable in the case of a colony in Hongkong's situation. A start is being made with a special constabulary, to be composed of Britishers and members of the foreign communities here. The idea of district contingents, each area with sufficient European residents providing its own, is a commendable one. We trust that there will be a prompt and adequate response. Any would-be volunteer not receiving a form should not allow this to damp his patriotism. It is possible that, through one cause or another, there will be cases in which individuals are overlooked when the circular form is issued; but a line to Police Headquarters will soon rectify this. A little later the authorities will no doubt develop the general scheme. The measure certainly implies no sort of slur upon the loyal citizens who responded during the seasons' strike; it is simply a case of orderly versus hurried preparation.

The Macao Affair.

The Commissioner of Foreign Affairs at Canton, according to our contemporary in that city, has drawn up a statement of terms for the settlement of the Macao affair, which dropped into the background during the strife between the Chan and Sun parties. A stringent list of demands has been prepared, and, says the Canton Times, the Commissioner will not listen to any other terms. If the Chinese authorities can substantiate their allegations, a strong case for redress will have been made out, having regard to the number of casualties. But it must be confessed that up to the present the Canton case has not been such as would convince an impartial tribunal. In all the circumstances, a compromise suggests itself as the best ending. Seeing that the Macao Government has presented a categorical statement of its position, and that the Portuguese residents are entirely in sympathy with the Chinese, it appears improbable that the former will be disposed to apologise; but condition II, as to the clear delimitation of boundaries, which had been mentioned before the disturbances, denotes a desirable step. As to severe punishment of "all guilty persons," the Macao contention is that the guilt was on the side of the Chinese, except in regard to the particular soldier in question, who was to be tried, but had to be sent to hospital on account of the Chinese crowd dispensing with a trial. In these circumstances it is not surprising that Macao does not admit liability to the wounded and the relatives of the dead, but is ready to make allowances of a compassionate nature, as was done here over the Shatin occurrence. Regarding the losses of the Chinese merchants, as these were the outcome of the disorders and the Chinese strikes, it is difficult to see how Macao can be expected to assume responsibility. As to the re-establishment of the Chinese labour unions, we understand that a general permission was given some weeks ago, subject to assurances against seditious practices on the part of the Chinese, which had been made by the Chinese Government. It is thought that the Chinese Government will be prepared to make such assurances, and that the Chinese labour unions will be re-established.

The Canton Times has received a letter from the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs denying that the terms demanded from the Macao Government are as stated in its issue of yesterday.

The scaffolding erected outside the Kowloon Cricket Club provided the staging of a comedy in the early hours of this morning. An agile thief, who had scaled the poles to burglar the building, found that he was discovered by a police officer, and scrambled along the scaffolding to another side of the building. After him came the no less agile Sergeant Baker and a merry chase ensued, leading to the overhauling and capture of the thief. Mr. R. E. Lindell gave the man six weeks at the Police Court this morning.

"Man-Woman-Marriage," the great motion-picture masterpiece which attracted so much attention when it was screened at the Coronet a few months back, is being shown over at the Kowloon Theatre to-night and to-morrow night. Built upon a theme so tremendous that it goes right to the root of the biggest human problems, the film has set a new standard in spectacular magnificence. It mirrors, with the most perfect artistry and breadth of conception, the hopes, the loves and the instincts of all woman-kind.

KOWLOON FOOTBALL CLUB.

Good Prospects for Coming Season.

Mr. R. H. B. Mitchell, President of the Kowloon Football Club, presided at the annual meeting of that body, held in St. Andrew's Church Hall last evening.

After referring to past handicaps in consequence of the Club having no ground, the President said they could not expect good football if they had no ground to practice upon. A weekly game at the Valley was not sufficient. Luckily, after 25 years, it had been given forth that they were at last to have a ground. They had been trying for many years to obtain this, but that was the way things were done in the Colony. The new ground was not a bad patch, and it now remained for the members to make the Club go. With the opportunity for practice now available they would be able to get a good team together. He also expected that the membership would increase. They were beginning with a small company, but they were also now starting with a new lease of life. He saw no reason why the class of football they played in Kowloon should not equal that of the Hongkong Football Club. He could not see why people should not come over from Hongkong to see the game played in Kowloon as they now want to see it played at Happy Valley.

Mr. W. A. Morgan (Hon. Secretary) reported that there was a balance of $147.70 to carry forward, which was a larger amount than they had ever carried forward before. This was mainly due to the generosity of Captain Wheeler and Mr. Dixon who donated to the Club the sums of $100 and $50 respectively.

After reviewing the past season, the Hon. Secretary said that after a lot of correspondence between the Hon. Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, Mr. Winslow, of the Kowloon-Canton Railway, and the Club they had managed to "squeeze" a piece of land near the Hung Hom Station. During the time the correspondence was going on the Colonial Secretary called a meeting of all the sports clubs in Kowloon. The meeting took place on May 29th in the Council Chamber. Mr. Fletcher placed before the meeting a scheme for levelling out the whole of King's Park to cover all kinds of sport in Kowloon. After the meeting he (Mr. Morgan) had a conversation with the Colonial Secretary regarding a temporary football ground during the laying out of King's Park. The Colonial Secretary was very courteous and said that arrangements had already been made with Mr. Winslow for the handing over of the piece of land. The land was to belong to the Club until such time as King's Park was ready. They were very grateful to the Government for the consideration thus shown.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows:—Mr. R. H. B. Mitchell (President), Mr. W. A. Morgan (Hon. Secretary), Mr. E. Christensen (Hon. Treasurer), Messrs. R. Hall, B. B. Vergette, F. Wheeler, T. Knight and K. Mason.

Yesterday's Results.

The first day of the annual aquatic sports held under the auspices of the Victoria Recreation Club drew a fair number of spectators besides the usual enthusiastic crowd of competitors yesterday afternoon, when amongst the events decided were the 100 yards Championship and the team race, in both of which familiar figures in past seasons again took part.

In the open event, D. Lyon established his claim to the 100 yards' distance by coming in after an exciting race, four-fifths of a second ahead of G. A. Jack, the closeness of the finish giving rise to speculation as to the probable result on a repetition of the event between the two swimmers. For the second time this season, D. Lyon wins a local championship Cup, the times recorded in yesterday's event being 52.4-5 secs. and 53.2-5 secs. respectively.

Following are the results:—Boys' high dive (open)—1, A. Bliss, 94 points; 2, A. May, 89 pts.

100 yards championship of the Colony.—1, D. Lyon; 2, G. A. Jack. Time 52.4-5 secs.

Running header from springboard (members).—1, D. Lyon, 1004 pts.; 2, G. A. V. Hall, 954 pts.

Ladies' two lengths handicap (open).—1, Miss E. Bell; 2, Miss R. Kitchell. Time 58 secs.

Two lengths hurdle handicap (members).—1st heat.—1, G. A. V. Hall; 2, V. Ramsay. 2nd heat.—1, A. Kitchell; 2, C. Roza-Pereira.

"King's" Company League.

Three matches in the Company Football League have been played during the week resulting as follows:—"D" Company, 0; "B" Company, 0. "B" Company, 2; Band & Drums, 0. "C" Company, 4; Machine Gunners, 1.

The match between "C" Company and the Machine Gun Platoon was well fought, and produced some exciting moments for a large crowd of spectators, who had assembled to witness "C" Company avenge a 3-2 defeat inflicted on them by the Gunners in the first match of the competition. "C" Company's inside left accomplished the "hat-trick," two of the goals being the result of good teamwork. The best goal of the match was scored by "C" Company's outside right with a splendid first-time shot from about 25 yards' range which had the Machine Gunners' custodian hopelessly beaten. Result:—"C" Company, 4; Machine Gunners, 1.

Yesterday afternoon the Junior Boys of St. Joseph's College played the Band and Drummer Boys of the Battalion. St. Joseph's Boys won by 3 goals to nil.

The Drummers played a friendly match yesterday with a team from H.M.S. "Moth." The naval men won by 2 goals to 1.

The Company Football League table now stands:—

	Goals
"C" Coy.	8
"B" Coy.	7
"D" Coy.	7
"A" Coy.	6
"E" Coy.	5

BETTER HOMES FOR MASSSES.

Government's Scheme For Workmen's Dwellings.

Further details in connection with the Government's proposed scheme for improving the housing conditions of the working classes, mentioned by H. E. the Officer Administering the Government at yesterday's meeting of the Legislative Council, were gleaned by a Telegraph reporter who interviewed the Colonial Secretary (Hon. Mr. A.G.M. Fletcher) this morning.

The Government are very interested in the proposition of housing the Colony's labourers and artisans under better conditions, but it is a matter that must be approached with great caution, Mr. Fletcher explained, and there are several factors to be considered. The real question is to stabilise land values, and another point that must be borne in mind is that cheap transportation is necessary.

A possible scheme, said Mr. Fletcher, is to lease an area of land without a premium for a definite period of years—a short period—on condition that builders would erect a good type of workmen's dwellings. The builder would be allowed 5 per cent. and there would be a sinking fund to reimburse him. At the expiration of the period the whole thing would revert to the Government.

Mr. Fletcher said it had not been decided where the scheme would be carried out; the matter was being fully gone into at the present time.

The idea is to cater for the needs of the workman, such as mechanics, regular labourers and men of that class. Under the housing scheme, instead of living under the crowded conditions which at present prevail, each family would have a room to themselves and it is hoped to be able to build houses economically of a type that each room would have a window to it.

A working class housing scheme, though run on somewhat different lines, is in existence at Samsuipo. Here dwell large numbers of Chinese of the artisan class under conditions which induce a brighter outlook on life, are conducive to contentment, go to make the people take a greater interest in the Colony, and give them a better existence generally. It is hoped that the type of houses built will, with modifications, be planned on similar lines.

Cheap transport is one of the problems in connection with a proposition of this description, but this is a matter that the Government is taking in hand. One of the biggest schemes at present under way with regard to transportation is the new ferry project. The Government intend to run large ferries, of the type seen in the big cities of the world, from Jubilee Street, on the Hongkong side, to Jordan Road on the mainland.

These ferries will be sufficiently large to accommodate big motor cars and lorries, as well as passengers. Motor vans will be able to drive straight on to the ferry, will be transported over the water and will be able to continue their journey on the other side, which will save the present time-wasting method of unloading and loading at both ends.

DAY BY DAY.

His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, accompanied by Mrs. Severn and her mother Mrs. Bullock, came into residence at Government House yesterday, where they will remain until the return of His Excellency the Governor early in November.

Our picture page to-morrow will include two most interesting photographs of the wrecked s.s. Choyssang, which is to be sold by auction next week. Another striking picture will be a composite photograph showing what may be expected in the future—an airship with mails arriving in Hongkong, making its way across the harbour to alight at Kowloon.

THE PURSUIT OF SUCCESS.

Looking around upon this general the average man feels constrained to echo the cry, by saying that the world has but one criterion—success. When the cynic so speaks he means material success. Nor need the moralist quarrel with this, so long as such success be worthily utilised. At all events, success is a decidedly popular pursuit, and accordingly treatises explaining the why and the how (or purporting to do so) are generally sure of readers. A publisher's list is pretty sure to contain at least one such title as "Secrets of Success," "How to Make a Fortune," "Aids to Wealth," &c. On a higher plane we have Smiles' "Self-Help," Lord Avebury's writings, and Mr. Lorrimer's "Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to his Son."

The latest contribution to this department of literature comes from Lord Riddell. It bears the caption, "Some Things That Matter" (Hodder and Stoughton, 7s. 6d.). There are plentiful hints upon How to Think, How to Speak, and the like, the advice being reinforced by numerous examples. Nothing dogmatic or didactic marks the dissertations, which are set forth in a pithy, picturesque style that never wastes a word. Particularly interesting are the chapters on the art of public speaking, in which Lord Riddell himself is an all-round adept.

For an example of a happy, far-sought quotation the following comparison of the verbal methods of Pitt and Fox is well worth remembering: "Pitt carefully considered his sentences before he uttered them; Fox threw himself into the middle of his, and left it to God Almighty to get him out again."

The majority of occasional speakers resemble Fox rather than Pitt, but the curious thing is that they are often more effective with an English audience than those who have the gift of suave and flowing oratory. We forgive them, if their matter be practical, for the creaking of their slow working minds.

Lord Riddell's experience of public life enables him to give us a list of the methods of preparation pursued by speakers in the political limelight.

Mr. Lloyd George carefully prepares his set speeches, the heads of the arguments being set down in detail on half-sheets of stiff paper and important phrases being written out in full. Mr. Winston Churchill adopts a different practice. He dictates his set speeches in their entirety. Sir Arthur Balfour usually makes a few notes on the back of a large envelope, but often speaks without notes and prepares his arguments while on his legs. Mr. Bonar Law plans his speeches in his head, and never uses notes. Lord Birkenhead more or less adopts the Balfourian method.

And he tells us that John Bright thought his greatest speech was not the oft-quoted oration which contained the famous image of the Angel of Death. In the later chapters the author gives effect to a suggestion of Lord Morley, made in a speech at Manchester about 30 years ago, that the best way to learn to reason would be to study the methods adopted in the Law Courts. The Law Courts are not as many plain people believe, places where commonsense and the common speech of common people are unknown. They are, and have always been, schools of practical reasoning about practical things. It would be well if every man—and every woman since women even serve on juries nowadays—had a knowledge of the rules of evidence. This knowledge can now be acquired, in point of fact, without buying or even borrowing the legal textbooks, thanks to Lord Riddell's happy thought of conveying the gist of the whole matter in a series of chapters, all of which, having a certain literary charm, are as readable as they are reliable.

Lord Riddell's volume, it may be opined, is not of a type that will attract the Wallingfords. It will be welcomed, though, by a more thoughtful circle, people who desire to take an intelligent interest in things. This intelligent interest is no bad stepping-stone to success in the material sense.

"The Voice in the Wilderness" (Jonathan Cape, 7s. 6d.) shows Mr. Richard Blaker to be a novelist of promise. There are half-a-dozen studies of people

A FINE FILM.

Star Theatre Attraction.

Everyone has heard of A.E.W. Mason's novel and stage play on the Indian life, entitled "The Gates for the Defence." It was included in the repertoire of a touring company which came to Hongkong about a year ago, and was an outstanding success amongst the many dramas and comedies performed at the Theatre Royal. The screen version of the famous play has been brought into the Colony, and will from tonight till Monday be seen at the Star Theatre. For those who have already seen the play in its stage form interest will be revived, for certain features that could not be included within the limited area of the stage are in the film realised in the splendid jungle settings and elaborate photography of the scenes which are laid in India and England.

The woman in the case is impersonated by Miss Elsie Ferguson, whose work in "Barbaric Sheep," and still more recently in "A Society Exile," is recalled with pleasure. Miss Ferguson was one of the most popular actresses on the legitimate stage before she joined the ranks of the silent celebrities of the silver sheet. Hence the role which is a tensely dramatic one, is admirably suited to her abilities, and her army of admirers will hail her portrayal in this stirring photoplay, as one entitled to their warmest commendation.

with live souls and bodies with bones in them. The Petrie family is uncommonly well realised. The cream of them and centre of the book is Petrie pere; but here the portraiture becomes self-conscious. Petrie, to a large extent, is a literary figment, with his vocabulary and his sensational doublings of personality. What remains of him is human—and all of him is striking. Cynthia, the genius-daughter, suffers a little with reviewers because of the vast, loose elder-sisterhood that authors have created for her; but this author, does not clog you with Cynthia's temperament. Indeed, she is a brisk, unselfish human being, with singularly few vapours. Her charming young brother and her pretty, normal sister are well done. Still better is the pliant, petulant mother, who is a millstone round the family neck, until a real necessity for action on her part rouses her to an amazing efficiency. It is a little hard to believe that the pathetic and heroic, and above all, the understanding little saint of the last chapters could possibly have developed from the Mrs. Petrie of the first part of the book. All the same, if your author can make wondrous plausible, he has every right to make the wonder.

"Bedouin Love" by Arthur Weigall (Fisher Unwin, 1s. 6d.) is a good, straightforward story, without too much "desert glamour" in it, in spite of the title. The desert has been exploited a shade too much by this time, and already suggests the footlights. Jim Tundering-West (what a name!) is a man's man and refreshing, neither too strong nor too silent, and his author makes him live and manages to convince us of the charm of his love of a day, whom he leaves behind with his old wandering life when he settles down in England. The murder towards the end is an open mystery to the reader, but some suspense and danger are cleverly contrived, and all ends in a shapely manner without obviousness. Mr. Weigall has a line of his own and has not exhausted it.

Among new novels, Mr. Buchan's "Huntingtower" will appeal to all those who like an exciting, romantic book; of which the scene is placed in our own time. A very different type of story is "Futility," yet it gives an unforgettable picture of the Russia of just before and during the beginnings of the revolution. It has impressed at least one critic as a book that will be more rather than less read as time goes on. Mrs. Dudeney's readers will delight in her new volume of short stories, "A Baker's Dozen." An excellent sensational story is "The Haunted Seventh," by General Ross. In non-fiction, Mrs. Birling's delightful book on "William de Morgan and his Wife" is still being much read. Einstein and the Universe, and "Relativity for All," will attract more people than perhaps the other people would think possible.

GENERAL NEWS.

LOST MILLIONAIRE CASE UNSOLVED.

A Toronto message says: It is now apparent that no new light will be thrown on the case of Mr. Ambrose J. Small (the Toronto millionaire who disappeared in December, 1919) by the arrest of Herbert King and Cecilia Haley at Montreal. The detectives are convinced that these two had nothing to do with the mysterious disappearance of the millionaire, and that the latter's reference to the disappearance of Mr. Small found in a suit case at a Montreal hotel is a forgery. The detectives have, however, identified King and Cecilia Haley as the man and woman who stood at this hotel and King will be prosecuted for stealing a motor car. It is believed that the woman had nothing to do with the theft of the car, and she will be given into the charge of Salvation Army officers.

For the first time in history a 75 ton locomotive is loaded on a vessel as one unit. The above engine was built at Eddystone, Pennsylvania, for the Argentine Republic.

She tried to sit on top of a mammoth ball in the water, but is rolled from under her. This happened at the Luther Gulick Camp at Lake Sebago, in a water carnival in which 100 girls participated.

SHIPPING NEWS.

PACIFIC SHIPPING RATES.

Shippers of Manila hemp were yesterday notified by the lines plying between the Philippines and the Pacific coast that the rate on hemp, which has been $1 per bale, would in the future be $1.25 per bale.

A convention was made, however, that those exporters now under contract for shipment might file with the companies concerned a statement of existing obligations, which if received by Saturday noon, Sept. 23, would entitle them to the old rate on cargo declared. "This will probably work out to the advantage of the British lines," said a prominent hemp exporter of Manila. "The effect locally will be to reduce the price of hemp paid the producers by the amount of extra freight charges the exporters pay. Since the reduction of steamer rate to New York from $3 a bale to $1.50 there has been an advantage of 1/2 cents a pound in shipping by the all water route as compared to steamer shipment to the Pacific coast and rail shipment to the eastern markets. In this trade British steamers have done more than American steamers. Raising the rate on the Pacific to $1.25 makes just a little more advantage for the all-water route. It really throws rates out of adjustment and I anticipate that American ships will lose tonnage. The Canadian Pacific company may take any steps it sees fit in regard to adjustment of railway rates. It is not subject to any such body as the interstate commerce commission of the United States and may make what rates it pleases. Even if it fixes the same rates in Canadian money that American roads charge in American money, payment will be in gold and there will be an appreciable advantage because of the fact that Canadian money is at a discount compared to the dollar. Action of the steamship agents, in my opinion, will have far-reaching effects; and at first glance I should say the American lines and the railways with which they connect gain nothing by it."

LINK WITH THE PAST. A famous link with the past has just been broken in the United States. The paddle steamer Mary Powell, once known to the world as the Queen of the Hudson, has been sold to a firm of shipbreakers. She was built in 1861, by Messrs. M. S. Allison, of Jersey City, and the New York firm of Fletcher, Harrison & Co. fitted her with a vertical beam engine with a cylinder diameter of 62-in. and a stroke of 12 ft. Her hull was 300 ft. long overall, 34 ft 6 in. in breadth, and 10 ft 3 in. in depth. As soon as she started running on the Hudson she began to revolutionize local ideas about the speed of the steamships. Her paddles were 31 ft. in diameter, and she was then the very last word in the development of her type. After she had been in service a few years, the size of her cylinder was increased by 10 in., and the effect of this was apparent in 1874, when she steamed from New York to Poughkeepsie in 3 hours 19 minutes, averaging a speed of over 25 knots. She repeated this performance in 1881, when she was 20 years old.POOK YUEN ASHORE. While coming down the Yangtze the S. Pook Yuen, in taking the bend about three miles above Little Orphan, went ashore. She is stated to be rather badly aground, with about two-thirds of her length out of the water. On the morning of September 16 the Shanghai Tag and Lighter Company's tug Fulcrum, with one 350-foot lighter in tow, proceeded from Shanghai to undertake salvage operations. On September 17 a representative of the Kiangnan Dockyard, with additional men and gear, left on the China Merchants' s.s. Kiangnan, and on September 20 further salvage gear was despatched from Shanghai on the S. N. S. Wuchang.

RED SEA LOSS. Replying to representations of the Imperial Merchant Service Guild that the light on Mocha is the Red Sea, which was extinguished in 1916, should be continued, the Foreign Office says that the question is being earnestly considered in connection with the general question of the four lights in the southern Red Sea, but it is not possible to make representations to Turkey as the treaty of peace with Turkey on which the question of the future status of Yemen and the adjacent islands depends, has not been concluded.

A BOY'S DEATH

Physician Charged With Manslaughter.

A manslaughter charge was heard by Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Police Court this morning. The defendant in the case, a Chinese physician living at No. 211, Queen's Road Central, is accused of having caused the death of a small boy in his employment.

Inspector John Grant said the house where the defendant lived had its rear facing Jersey Street. It appears there was a quarrel in the defendant's family, who lived on the first floor, over some money believed to have been stolen by the small boy. This boy was seen to pass through the sitting room at the back of the premises and to go into the kitchen. Shortly afterwards he was found lying in Jersey Street, having fallen from a height of 34 feet. The police would say that on the arrival of a Chinese constable on the spot the latter was told by the boy, who was conscious, that it was the defendant who had thrown him over the verandah. This statement was made in the presence of a crowd of people who gathered round. The boy was taken to the Hospital where a proper statement was obtained from him before he died.

The Inspector, in concluding his remarks, said that the evidence was not very strong against the defendant at present, and he suggested a moderate bail for the prisoner.

The case was remanded, bail being fixed at $500. Mr. E. Davidson is defending.

INCREASED TELEPHONE CHARGES.

Protest by Calcutta Corporation.

An interesting and important item of business at the meeting of the Calcutta Corporation on Wednesday next will be the confirmation of a resolution of the Finance Committee characterising the present telephone service as very unsatisfactory and protesting against the increase in charges.

The resolutions of the Finance Committee are as follows:

(1) That the Committee record their protest against the increase in telephone charges.

(2) That the Committee are of opinion that the rebate of 25 per cent. allowed by the Bengal Telephone Co. in the case of the Corporation is inadequate and should be increased to 33.13 per cent.

(3) That in the opinion of the Committee the Bengal Telephone Co. should grant a rebate of 25 per cent. to the public at large, as paid at the office of the company within ten days of the due date.

(4) That in the opinion of the Committee the present telephone service is very unsatisfactory. They recommend that the Bengal Telephone Co. be called upon to improve the service and maintain it in an efficient state.

HIGHEST HONOUR FOR JAPANESE STATESMAN

Marquis Matsukata Created A Prince.

The veteran Japanese statesman, Marquis Matsukata, has retired from his office of Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, at his own request, and Viscount Hirata has been appointed his successor. The formal ceremony of installing the new holder of this post took place on Sunday morning at the Kasumigaseki Palace in the presence of His Imperial Highness the Prince Regent and other Court officials. The veteran Marquis was at the same time promoted to the rank of Prince, and honoured with the following Imperial Address:

"We hereby take pleasure in announcing Our intention of according to Marquis Matsukata the same treatment as is accorded to a Minister of State, in order to express Our appreciation of his long years of service."

His Majesty was further pleased to address the following message to the retiring statesman:—"You have served with such diligence and faithfulness as Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, in spite of your advanced age, that we have hitherto been pleased to overlook your wish to resign."

"In view of your present determination to retire, we hereby take pleasure in granting your request, assuring you of Our best wishes for your health."—Kobe Herald, Sep. 13.

CHINA'S FINANCIAL CRISIS.

A Stable Government the First Requisite.

In response to our request, says the Peking Evening News of the 21st, inst., Mr. Lo Wen-kan, the new Minister of Finance, invited us to call at his house late in the evening of Wednesday, as he was so pressed with urgent affairs that he would not be free until about eleven p.m.

After a most cordial greeting we indicated to that statesman a few of the points upon which we and our readers would like to be better informed, and requested him to be good enough to favour us with his views.

"My programme," said Mr. Lo, "is not yet arranged, for I have not had time to fully define it, but I can give you an outline of my thoughts on the subject."

"The general opinion appears to be that China is already upon the road to financial bankruptcy, for the Budget receipts remain at their former figure, while the expenditures increase day by day. It is useless to accuse the present regime for this unstable and perplexing situation, for even during the last years of the old monarchist regime China existed upon loans from home and abroad."

The change of government necessitated the establishment of one which would occupy itself primarily with consolidating the political situation of the country, and it is this apparent neglect which has rendered the position of Minister of Finance so thankless and almost caused one to despair of the effectual recovery of China from the dangers in which it now finds herself.

"The political situation naturally reacts upon the financial one," said Mr. Lo, "you doubtless remember the words of the French Minister of Budgets, who said to his sovereign: 'Sire! given me stable politics and I will give you stable finances.'"

In reply to our enquiries as to the present situation, Mr. Lo looked grave.

"The only programme for the moment is to endeavour to avoid further embarrassments, and to bring order out of the present chaos, if it is humanly possible, a task which must occupy several months at least. Next, we must establish a government which will command confidence both without and within by the honesty of its purpose, and the manner in which it renders an account of its trust to the country."

"It is a pity that your predecessors did not follow such admirable precepts," was our comment, but the remark passed unnoticed in the deep thoughts in which Mr. Lo was immersed.

"It is necessary above all that the country should be fully informed as to the condition of affairs," was Mr. Lo's next remark, "and it is possible that if we can effect a Financial Commission for the whole of China that our task will be relieved."

Again it is imperative that a line of demarcation should be established between what may be considered as National Taxes and those which are Provincial and Local.

This is necessary in order to avoid all conflict between the various authorities, and to ensure the regularity of the taxes and the avoidance of any imposition upon the people."

"What is your opinion as to the Mid-Autumn situation?" was our question. "That difficulty is already with us," was the reply, "for the government is already faced with the gravest dangers financially, calling for the furnishing of very considerable sums immediately, but nevertheless if the Financial Commission proves effective I have every confidence that we shall surmount all obstacles."

SUN'S ATTITUDE.

Playing One Against Another.

General Hsiao Yao-nan, the Tsuchun of Hupei, is reported to have received a telegram from Marshal Tsao Kun to the effect that Dr. Sun Yat-sen is again in close connection with Marshal Chang Tso-lin. The telegram states that Dr. Sun on the one hand is instigating the Parliamentarians in Peking in an attempt to undermine the Government, while on the other he is trying to foment troubles among the troops of Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu with the purpose of starting mutinies. The expenses of this campaign are defrayed by Messrs. Liang Shih-yi and Yeh Kung-cho.
